

Would your company like to meet prospective apprentices on 26 September 2019 at the Generation Apprenticeship competition launch?

Free and open to employers who are interested in recruiting apprentices

DATE FOR YOUR DIARY

THURSDAY 26 SEPTEMBER

The national Generation Apprenticeship campaign and competition which has been running since 2017. With sponsorship from ESB and the CIF, the combined efforts of hundreds of apprentices, over 150 employers, education and training providers and a large list of suppliers has created a new national awareness of the skills and careers available through the apprenticeship route, helping to build new generations of talent.

This year's competition will be launched at an exciting high-profile showcase at the Aviva Stadium on Thursday 26 September. The event will include a briefing on this year's competition for apprentice teams and for second level schools who will be participating for the first time.

The showcase will include interactive stands hosted by employers, competition competitors and education providers. The showcase is free to all and invitations are issuing to over 7,000 people who have already expressed an interest in becoming an apprentice, as well as all second level schools, further and higher education and training providers.
